Description:

From Library Journal Nebraska pulls out all the stops for this superb scholarly edition of Cather's 1927 novel. This edition includes a newly restored text along with several historical essays and explanatory notes by several scholars. Academic libraries supporting hardcore American literature curricula will want this volume.

Review "A truly remarkable book . . . Soaked through and through with atmosphere . . . From the riches of her imagination and sympathy Miss Cather has distilled a very rare piece of literature. It stands out, from the very resistance it opposes to classification."

—NEW YORK TIMES

"The most sensuous of writers, Willa Cather builds her imagined world as solidly as our five senses build the universe around us."

—Rebecca West

"[Cather's] descriptions of the Indian mesa towns on the rock are as beautiful, as unjudging, as lucid, as her descriptions of the Bishop's cathedral. It is an art of 'making,' of clear depiction—of separate objects, whose whole effect works slowly and mysteriously in the reader, and cannot be summed up . . . Cather's composed acceptance of mystery is a major, and rare, artistic achievement."

—from the Introduction by A. S. Byatt --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.
